

ROCHESTER PLAZA - Mezzanine

ROCHESTER PLAZA - 3rd Floor

American Association for the History of Medicine

*59th
Annual Meeting*

Rochester, New York
April 30 - May 3, 1986

GENERAL INFORMATION

Registration, Correspondence and Inquiries should be directed to:

1986 AAHM Local Arrangements Committee
Box 652
University of Rochester Medical Center
Rochester, New York 14642
Telephone: (716) 275-2903

Hotel: The meeting is being held at:

The Rochester Plaza Hotel
70 State Street
Rochester, New York 14614
Telephone: (716) 546-3450

Transportation from Airport: The hotel provides free limousine service to and from the airport, on schedule and by direct telephone.

AAHM Registration Desk: The Association's registration desk will be in the Assembly Promenade North on the Mezzanine floor. It will open at 3:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 30, and will be open throughout the meeting to handle inquiries. The telephone extension is 2176.

Dining: Meals are served in the hotel's Riverview Cafe, 6:30 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. daily. 24-hour room service is available. Continental breakfast, priced by the item, will be available in Assembly Promenade West, 7:30 a.m. - 8:45 a.m. There will be three AAHM luncheons with speakers on Thursday, and three different ones on Friday. Members are free for dinner after the reception on Wednesday and again on Thursday. The Annual Banquet is Friday. A list of restaurants will be included in the registration package.

Cover Illustration: Wood engraving of Geneva Medical Institution, pioneer medical school of Western New York. In its 38 years (1835-72), the school graduated 695 doctors, many of whom practiced in the area, and one of whom, Elizabeth Blackwell, was the first woman to receive an M.D. degree. Other illustrations relate to the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Western District, at Fairfield, the first medical school in upper New York State (1812-42); to the City Hospital for Women, a private gynecological hospital in Buffalo (c. 1908); and to H.H. Warner, Rochester's late 19th Century proprietary promoter whose manufactory still stands across the river from the hotel. (From Edward G. Miner Library.)

Meetings: All papers will be given in the three adjacent hotel ballrooms on the Mezzanine floor. The Annual Awards and Garrison lecture will be presented at the Academy of Medicine.

Receptions:

Wednesday, April 30, 6:00-8:00 p.m.

Women from Birth to Death:
The Female Life Cycle in Britain
1830-1914

edited by Pat Jalland and John Hooper

This documentary study records different views about the biological turning points and experiences supposedly peculiar to women, and provides fascinating case studies of such debates as the use of chloroform in childbirth, the presence of husbands during labor, and the clitoridectomy controversy.

Medical Education
KENNETH M. LUDMERER

A distinguished historian of science who is also a practicing doctor and medical educator provides the definitive account of the rise of the modern medical school and the shaping of the medical profession. "Kenneth Ludmerer's excellent book tells the fascinating story of how the United States achieved its world leadership in medical education. . . . The best study yet of the origins of modern medical education."—JAMES H. JONES, New York Times Book Review $21.95

HEMATOLOGY, THE BLOSSOMING OF A SCIENCE: A Story of Inspiration and Effort
By MAXWELL M. WINTROBE, M.D., Ph.D.,
University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah. Combining autobiographical information with biographical accounts of over 500 names in the field of hematology, Dr. Wintrobe presents a comprehensive history of the contributors, and their contributions, to the science of hematology. Beginning with an overview of hematology as it evolved from antiquity to the early part of this century, the author then traces his six decades of experiences and involvement in hematology research, which form his self-described "hematologic odyssey." The biographical sketches are grouped by the specific area of hematology to which the individual (often a personal acquaintance of Dr. Wintrobe) has made the greatest contribution. Mixing history with human interest, Dr. Wintrobe reveals the previously unpublished stories of the inquisitive and dedicated minds that are responsible for the "blossoming" of this chapter in the march of medical science. 564 pp. (7¼ x 10¼), 150 photographs, 1985, $60.00.

TWO HUNDRED YEARS OF PUBLISHING:
A History of the oldest publishing company in the United States - Lea & Febiger, 1785-1985
By R. KENNETH BUSSY, B.S., *Executive
Editor, Lea & Febiger, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.* This is an illustrated, highly anecdotal history of Lea & Febiger and its predecessor firms with interesting sidelights on the founder, Mathew Carey and his successors. Included is an entertaining chapter about an early Carey employee, the irrepressible "Parson" Weems. Also meriting an entire chapter entitled "The Renaissance Man" is Henry C. Lea, a previous owner, who was also one of America's greatest historians and the father of the copyright law. 126 pp. (5 5/8 x 8 5/8), 44 illus., 1985, $12.50.

Canadian Medicine: A Study in Restricted Entry

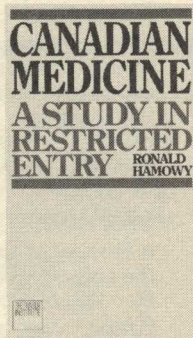

Canadian doctors are licensed to practice medicine in order to protect patients against harm caused by unlicensed, unqualified practitioners. Right?

Wrong, says Dr. Ronald Hamowy, Professor of History at the University of Alberta at Edmonton, and author of the Fraser Institute study Canadian Medicine: A Study in Restricted Entry.

According to Professor Hamowy's findings, protecting the public from unscrupulous, unskilled medical practitioners is only the excuse used by the medical establishment in support of their monopolistic position. The real reason for these legislative enactments is to protect physicians against competition, which would reduce their salaries, power, and prestige.

Professor Hamowy in this well-written exposé subjects the Canadian medical profession to an exhaustive, rigorous and scholarly critique. He shows where the skeletons are hidden, and holds the movement for restricted entry up to the light of day, where its hypocrisy can be seen. The book will be an eye-opener for all of those in the medical field in Canada.

Resources in Medical History

New and forthcoming titles selected, edited, and published in cooperation with AAHM and the National Library of Medicine.

Autobiography of Dr. Karl Ernst von Baer Edited and with a preface by Jane M. Oppenheimer

Largely a treatment of von Baer's professional life, this translation will acquaint readers not fluent in German with a figure recognized as the "father of modern embryology." Readers will find fascinating his vivid descriptions of hardships endured during geographical explorations; his consummate physical and intellectual courage; his complete and utter honesty.
